Deputy CAO Shaw read a staff report that was prepared by CAO Egan to the Board of Supervisors meetings through the internet. Robert Talley from the Lassen County Office of Education (LCOE) briefly explained how the streaming would work through the server and network. Information Services Supervisor Jason Housel informed the Board that they have already done a pilot of audio streaming and it worked very well. The biggest concern is closed caption and is something they are currently working on. Video streaming was briefly discussed as well as current costs to install the program and monthly and annual fees. Extensive discussion was held about the need to resend and prepare a county policy and disclaimer. Direction to staff was given to develop policy recommendations and disclaimer language for future consideration by the Board of Supervisors.
